

Aurora

A gleam appears to me as a swift burn
And you have burnt through all of me
You've burned through everything.
Stay so perfect under my skin.

I am drowning I'll keep you inside me.

I love you the glow that stays under me.

I am drowning taking me to a place inside

I love you I want you I can barely see.

I am drowning I can barely see.

You are here today and gone tomorrow
But you will always be a part of me
You are beauty so full of sorrows
Letting me rest for another day
Warm and enchanting the happiness

I am drowning I'll keep you inside me.

I love you the glow that stays under me.

I am drowning taking me to a place inside

I love you I want you I can barely see.

I am drowning I am drowning I can barely see.

I am drowning I am drowning I can barely see.

My Aurora.
