

The Man

Why don't they come?
They just don't seem to care.
Something big happened yesterday

A man appeared he was a man for whom they'd waited a long time

And yesterday he walked into their city.
And they've got something you'll never have a little simple faith

Each finds him in his own way
Something big happened yesterday
Now they just don't seem to care.
