

Be not afraid

When I was young I'll guess you shine like the sun
Overwhelming

All through these days we were not aware or just didn't care
Incomprehensible

Now there's a line in your face a shadow drawn
You're slowly fading

Be not afraid cause fear ain't no substitute for safety
And don't you replace your fear with solitude its wasted

Be not afraid cause fear ain't no substitute for safety
And don't you replace your fear with solitude its wasted

It's all in your eyes ,a stranger's reply ,that danger inside
Overwhelming

There's no wonder why , no sign of tears ,just wasted years
Incomprehensible

No more denial no sacrifice , It's all in your eyes
You're slowly fading

Be not afraid cause fear ain't no substitute for safety
And don't you replace your fear with solitude its wasted
Be not afraid cause fear ain't no substitute for safety
And don't you replace your fear with solitude its wasted
