

Seven black pearls

Theres a sky wearing blue wrinkled slice of grain Through me mind drained in salt blue sea Kind of dazzle me sigh sort of rain in me ear leaves me sleeping without any fear

And the nighth grow with visions through some sighs I might share
All these days out of confidence and care Kind of nuzzle me mind through that faint insecure Still remain all this moments so rare a chant a dream in silence last seen once in range for us all to reach a chant a dream a sign in between seven black pearl out of Ligres beach

Theres lighth in your eyes when youre dragon flies in youre mind its an being of life Kind of fuzzy and harsh in its staggering flighth Sometimes leaves you in anger and tears

Theres a why feeding trouble distrust and despair through one mind without imagine to wear That well so clear that thin thin air all these. dreams we are able to share

So come on catch me now Come on lead me on
