

Waving at the world

Swinging the margaritas baby ,driving a Chevy Blazer towards your love forever young and snappy guess I was waving at the world Burning one sweet colitas. dreaming about your tender touch everybody seems so happy I'll guess I'm Waving at the world

Im vaving at you honey allthough i knew youre not in sighth waving at these memorys all these pleasures in the nighth

I,ll guess youd never meant to hurt me allthough you stabbed me in the back With all your faithfulness your lies and treachery along the track

Blinded by jealousy I,ll started out one strange atack
I saw you tumbling down the roof I,ll guess youd never coming back

Rainy days want touch me sunny allthough these tears yet hasnt dried heading towards the wrong direction heading towards that final lighth

Swinging me margaritas honey driving that Chevy straigth towards the train I hear the whistle blowing I'll guess I'm Waving through the pain

And while my life beginns to swirl I'll guess I'm Waving at the world
