

Note: Wish I could have these view dealing with darkness, death and other fear, can't say I do

No Fear

I'm not afraid of darkness
I'm not afraid of the dawn
Visions in that shark head
Haunting when I'm alone

I'm not afraid of lightning
Touch me with its force
Its rumble will protect me
And guide me from its source

That velvet light of poor sense
Ain't burning my controls
I'm fed up with these warnings
Lets show them with these howls

Changes through changes
Range without range dear
Stranger to stranger
Faces with no fear

So I turn my face towards you my eyes will seek your eyes my hands will touch your hands
Without promises or fright

Walk out through the gutter
Talk through our reign
Small thought that matters
Good news and those in pain

Whisper my name to the slaughter
Fill up his heart with my call
Burn out his brain with me laughter
Rise up and start to howl

Changes trough changes
Range without range
Stranger to stranger
Faces with no fear
